

MAY 29

Virgin Martyr Theodosia of Tyre

TROPARION - Tone 4

Thou didst pleasingly attain the virtues, /
By becoming a bride of Christ and a habitation of the Holy Spirit. /
By so doing, thou didst shame the enemy /
Who strives against the human race. /
Having suffered nobly, thou didst cut down Coprónymus with the sword of faith /
And wast translated, rejoicing into the heavenly bridal chamber, ///
Ever praying for great mercy to those who honor thee.

KONTAKION - Tone 2

Through thy labors, thou didst attain a life of ease, /
O holy martyr. /
Thou didst defeat Coprónymus, the evil enemy of the Church of Christ, /
By thy blood, O blessed Theodosia. /
Rejoicing now, together with the hosts on high, ///
Ever protect those who honor thee.
