The 24th Day of January

Commemoration of our Venerable Mother, Xenia of Rome; and of our Venerable Mother Ksenia of St. Petersburg, whose service follows this. — incomplete as of 1/2015

Vespers

At "Lord, I call...," 3 stichera from the Octoechos and 3 of the Saint, in Tone 1: To the melody, "Joy of the ranks of heaven...."

Redirecting thy love towards good things / And through deeds confirming thy purpose, /

Thou didst flee the sweetness of temptations, O blessed one, /

And ascended along the difficult path of virtues ///

By becoming a stranger to the world.

Hastening to the divine harbor /

Thou didst calmly pass through the tumultuous waves of this world /

Steering the ship of thy soul without foundering /

In the bitter sea of pleasures, O honorable one, ///

For thou wast laden with a cargo of spiritual goodness.

Thou didst live the life of a wanderer /

In emulation of Him /

Who for our sakes descended from heaven /

To save those who had fallen. /

Thou didst dwell amidst thy kin not being known by them /

Yet thou wast well known by the pious /

And now thou dost ever pray on behalf of all, ///

O blessèd mother Xenia.

Glory..., now and ever..., Theotokion in the same Tone:

All-glorious art thou from generation to generation, /

O Virgin Mother and Maiden,

Mary Theotokos, the Protectress of the world, /

Who gavest birth in the flesh to the Son of the Father without beginning, /

Who is truly co-eternal with the Spirit. ///

Beseech Him now to save our souls.

Or this Stavrotheotokion: in the same Tone:

When she beheld the Lamb lifted up upon the Cross, / The most pure Virgin cried out lamenting: /

24 JANUARY

```
O my Sweet Child /
What is this new and all-glorious wonder? /
How is it that Thou who holdest all things in the hollow of Thy hand, ///
Art nailed to the Tree in the flesh?
```

Troparion of Saint Xenia, in Tone 8:

The image of God was truly preserved in thee, O Mother, / For thou didst take up thy cross and follow Christ / By so doing thou didst teach us to disregard the flesh, for it passes away / But to care instead for the soul, since it is immortal /// Therefore thy spirit, O holy Xenia, rejoices with the angels.

Matins

After the usual readings from the Psalter, both Canons from the Octoechos, and this Canon of the Saint in Tone 8.

— incomplete as of 1/2015

Kontakion of Saint Xenia of Rome, in Tone 2: To the melody, "Of Thy blood...."

```
Remembering thy marvelous life /
With love we honor thee, O Xenia, /
And we sing a hymn of praise to Christ /
Who gavest thee the power to grant healing to all. ///
Beseech Him always on behalf of us all.
```
